What do I need to know about the Taxi Operation market?

The following summary statistics have been taken from market research reports and reliable resources that the Information Service uses to compile industry information. They should give you an indication of how your industry is faring at present and whether there is demand for your type of business:

- ◆ Taxi operators have had challenging operating conditions due to volatile demand and an increase in competition. The industry has also struggled to fully recover from COVID-19. Industry revenue is forecast to fall at a compound annual rate of 4.8% The dramatic rise in fuel prices have further slowed down recovery, however rail strikes in the UK in 2022 and 23 have supported an increase in taxi operations revenue which is projected to climb 8% to £9.3bn in 2023-24. Industry revenue is expected to grow at a compound rate of 3.4% over the next five years through 2028-29 to £10.9bn. (IBISWorld, Taxi Operation in the UK, December 2023)
- ◆ Overall risk in the industry is projected to be Medium-High in 2024-25. Primary negative factors affecting this industry are very high revenue volatility and high competition. Overall risk will be lower than last year, due to favourable movements in urban population as well as fuel prices. However, this will be partially offset by a projected rise in growth risk. (IBISWorld, Taxi Operation in the UK Risk Report, January 2024)
- ◆ Excluding Clackmannanshire, there were 9,271 taxis and 12,438 private hire cars licensed in Scotland during 2022, based on figures provided by Scottish local licensing authorities. 4,381 (47%) of these are wheelchair accessible. The number of wheelchair accessible vehicles varies across different authority areas (Transport Scotland, Scottish Transport Statistics 2022)
- ◆ The national organisation for this industry is the Scottish Taxi Federation. Other industry bodies include the Scottish Private Hire Association, the National Private Hire & Taxi Association, and the Licensed Private Hire Car Association.

Where can I find more information on my market?

The Information Service has access to a number of databases which can offer more detail on this industry. Some of these reports are listed below - if you would like to be sent extracts from any of these reports, please contact us on 0300 013 4753 or email info@bgateway.com.

- ◆ IBISWorld – Taxi Operations in the UK (December 2023). International tourists usually do not have their own vehicles, and so are major users of taxis and private-hire vehicles. This means that an increase in the number of international tourists generally brings an increase in the number of taxi journeys. The number of international tourists is rising over 2023-24, presenting an opportunity for taxi operators. Tourist numbers are expected to start returning to pre-pandemic levels in 2024.
- ◆ IBISWorld – Taxi Operation in the UK Risk Report (January 2024). Volatile fuel prices can cause uncertainty for taxi services and in some cases may impede a business's ability to remain profitable, which could decrease the viability of a business. Fuel prices are rising in 2023-24, threatening the average industry profit margin. Most taxi journeys are made in cities and a vast number of taxi services are located in urban areas. The urban population is expected to continue growing in 2023-24 which is likely to lead to higher demand for taxi services.

There are also a number of online resources you may find helpful:

- ◆ My World of Work has a variety of career profiles for many industries in the UK. Their profile on Taxi Drivers shows average UK salary, number of people currently employed in Scotland and a five-year job forecast (Taxi Driver)
- ◆ The Scottish Government policy on Renewable and Low Carbon Energy details the promotion of the use of ultra-low emission vehicles (ULEVs) and the aim to phase out the need for new petrol and diesel cars and vans by 2032 (Renewable and low carbon energy – Low carbon transport)
- ◆ The UK Government has information on the Private hire vehicle or minicab licence (Scotland). To drive a private hire car (PHC) in Scotland, a private hire car drivers' licence or a taxi drivers' licence must be obtained from your local authority. Vehicles used as PHCs must also be licensed by the local authority in the area in which it is to operate (Private hire vehicle or minicab license \(Scotland\)). Your local authority website should have contact details for the relevant team and details of the process for making an application. A list of Council websites can be found via the Convention of Scottish Local Authorities \(COSLA\).
- ◆ Taxi/private hire operators and their drivers can keep up to date with news and developments in their sector by accessing the following trade journals for the industry: Private Hire and Taxi Monthly, TAXI Newspaper and Professional Driver.

How can I find out about my competitors?

Business Gateway's online guide to Competitor Analysis explains how to find your competitors, how to research what they're doing and how to act on what you learn about them.

Immediate competition will be from other businesses in your local area. There are several online directories which can be used to find company information and generate lists easily and at no expense. Many Local Authorities also publish local business directories on the web. Below are some key web resources:

- ◆ General business directories such as Yell ,Thomson Local or Google Maps
- ◆ Trade specialists like EuroPages (European directory), The Wholesaler or Free Index
- ◆ Business to business (B2B) specialists such as Kompass

Likewise, your local Chamber of Commerce may publish a members' directory; find your local Chamber on the Scottish Chambers website.

Once you've identified who your competitors are, the next step is to gather information on the way they do business. Which services do they provide? How do they market themselves? How much do they charge?

To learn about your competitors:

- ◆ Look for articles or adverts in local newspapers, trade press and directories.
- ◆ Try to read their marketing material; if the company has an online presence, visit the company's website as a first port of call. Not only does it give you a better understanding of the company's activities, it can also offer a wealth of information such as a company history or staff biographies, as well as the company's partners or suppliers
- ◆ Search for information on limited UK companies via the Companies House website
- ◆ Gain an insight into your competitor's performance using credit checks and the accounts that limited companies are required to submit to Companies House each year.

We can provide credit checks free of charge; if you are interested in using this resource, or looking for us to help you find relevant publications, please contact us by emailing info@bgateway.com or by calling 0300 013 4753

What about suppliers?

Choosing and Managing Suppliers can help you decide what you need from a supplier, how to identify one and how to choose one to deal with.

Trade associations or industry specific organisations may also be able to recommend suppliers or contacts. You can also use the aforementioned resources for finding competitors to find suppliers.

Once you have decided on a supplier, we can run a credit check on the company to help assess their financial stability. We provide credit checks free of charge; if you are interested in using the resource please info@bgateway.com or by calling 0300 013 4753.

Who are my customers?

Your business plan should include information about the customers you would expect. Business Gateway's guides on Market and customer research will help you to identify new trends, opportunities, customers and competitors.

It can be useful to group your customers by geographical location, age or lifestyle. The websites listed below are freely available and can provide most of this information. If you can't find what you're looking for from these website, please contact us and one of the team will be happy to help:

- ◆ Access the latest population estimates from the National Records of Scotland \(NRS\). NRS also offers demographic factsheets for each council area in Scotland, which can provide summary statistics for the area you will be based in.
- ◆ Information from the most recent census in 2011 is released via the official website. See in particular the Census Area Profiles. Clicking on your area of interest will give the latest population figures, including estimates by age.
- ◆ Understanding Scottish Places has interactive profiles of towns and cities across Scotland. It can be useful for understanding the interrelationships and flows between towns, and also gives comparisons between two or more places.
- ◆ Scottish Government Statistics provide accurate and up-to-date statistics on Scotland, covering population, health, education and housing.
- ◆ The Scottish Household Survey provides information on the structure, characteristics, attitudes and behaviour of Scottish households, both at a national and local level.
- ◆ Office for National Statistics \(ONS\) is the recognised national statistical body for the UK. ONS covers a wide range of demographic, economic and social issues at a UK level.
