What do I need to know about the Wedding Services market?

The following summary statistics have been taken from market research reports and reliable resources that the Information Service uses to compile industry information. They should give you an indication of how your industry is faring at present and whether there is demand for your type of business:

- ◆ The Wedding Venue industry has had a tumultuous time up until 2023-24. In 2020-21, COVID-19 forced couples to postpone their weddings, causing a momentary plummet in venue income in 2020-21. However, most of these postponed weddings were rescheduled for 2021-22, when restrictions eased, causing a boom in income in 2021-22. Overall, wedding venue revenue is projected to grow at a compound annual rate of 1.7% over the five years through 2023-24, to reach £3.3 billion. (IBISWorld, Wedding Venues in the UK, September 2023).
- ◆ Being or getting married is important to 63% of Gen Z. One in five Gen Zers plan to get married in the next five years, suggesting that, for many, it will be further ahead in the future... Nearly four in 10 Gen Zers, though, do not see marriage as important in their lives, demonstrating a significant shift in priorities in modern society. If Gen Z are to follow the same path as Millennials, who are not getting married at the same rate as previous generations, the number of couples tying the knot will continue to decline (Mintel, Lifestyles of Generation Z UK, 2023).
- ◆ Weddings account for 26.6% (£610.9m) of Party & Events Planning industry revenue in 2025. The marriage rate is edging downwards due to socio-economic factors like rising wedding costs and marriage being seen as less important - there's less stigma attached to couples living together and having children outside of wedlock. Demand for elaborate ethnic weddings is still high. The Asian Wedding Association claims that the British Asian wedding industry was worth £3 billion in 2023-24, offering plenty of lucrative revenue opportunities for party and event planners that cater to this market. (IBISWorld, Party & Event Planners in the UK, October 2024)
- ◆ There were 25,713 marriages in Scotland in 2023, which is over 3000 less than the previous year. Of these, a total of 1,040 were same-sex marriages. (National Records of Scotland, Marriages and Civil Partnership Time Series Data, July 2024)
- ◆ The national organisation for this industry is the National Association of Wedding Professionals. Other industry bodies include the Association of British Wedding Businesses, the Retail Bridalwear Association, and the Scottish Wedding Industry Alliance.

Where can I find more information on my market?

The Information Service has access to a number of databases which can offer more detail on this industry. Some of these reports are listed below - if you would like to be sent extracts from any of these reports, please contact us on 0300 013 4753 or email info@bgateway.com.

- ◆ IBISWorld – Photographic Activities in the UK (August 2024). Wedding photography generates the largest share of revenue. New technology has enabled photographers to expand their offerings, including providing digital copies of images and capturing video using the same camera. This segment is largely unaffected by people taking their own photographs and the significant increase in hobby and amateur photographers because quality and professionalism are crucial..
- ◆ IBISWorld – Bridal Stores in the UK (August 2024). Bridal boutique revenue is expected to creep downwards at a compound annual rate of 3.2%. Unsurprisingly, bridal store revenue is heavily influenced by the marriage rate. Unfortunately, changing social structures make marriage less of a priority – with Britons prioritising expenditure on education, travel and other experiences over-elaborate weddings. High-street retailers, online counterparts (think ASOS) and rental stores have gradually built up new, low-cost bridal collections, placing considerable pricing pressure on boutiques – especially when finances are tight. In 2024-25, revenue is anticipated to drop of 0.3 % to £395.5 million, when the average profit margin is set to reach 3.3%.

How can I find out about my competitors?

Business Gateway's online guide to Competitor Analysis explains how to find your competitors, how to research what they're doing and how to act on what you learn about them.

Immediate competition will be from other businesses in your local area. There are several online directories which can be used to find company information and generate lists easily and at no expense. Many Local Authorities also publish local business directories on the web. Below are some key web resources:

- ◆ General business directories such as Yell, Thomson Local or Google Maps
- ◆ Trade specialists like EuroPages (European directory), The Wholesaler or Free Index
- ◆ Business to business (B2B) specialists such as Kompass

Likewise, your local Chamber of Commerce may publish a members' directory; find your local Chamber on the Scottish Chambers website.

Once you've identified who your competitors are, the next step is to gather information on the way they do business. Which services do they provide? How do they market themselves? How much do they charge?

To learn about your competitors:

- ◆ Look for articles or adverts in local newspapers, trade press and directories.
- ◆ Try to read their marketing material; if the company has an online presence, visit the company's website as a first port of call. Not only does it give you a better understanding of the company's activities, it can also offer a wealth of information such as a company history or staff biographies, as well as the company's partners or suppliers
- ◆ Search for information on limited UK companies via the Companies House website
- ◆ Gain an insight into your competitor's performance using credit checks and the accounts that limited companies are required to submit to Companies House each year.

We can provide credit checks free of charge; if you are interested in using this resource, or looking for us to help you find relevant publications, please contact us by emailing info@bgateway.com or by calling 0300 013 4753

What about suppliers?

Choosing and Managing Suppliers can help you decide what you need from a supplier, how to identify one and how to choose one to deal with.

Trade associations or industry specific organisations may also be able to recommend suppliers or contacts. You can also use the aforementioned resources for finding competitors to find suppliers.

Once you have decided on a supplier, we can run a credit check on the company to help assess their financial stability. We provide credit checks free of charge; if you are interested in using the resource please info@bgateway.com or by calling 0300 013 4753.

Who are my customers?

Your business plan should include information about the customers you would expect. Business Gateway's guides on Market and customer research will help you to identify new trends, opportunities, customers and competitors.
